

Student essay after correction with comments

Is air transport good for the world? Should people be encouraged to travel less often by plane? What are the advantages and disadvantages of air travel?

Travelling is an important aspect of life for many people. Some ~~of them~~ people travel for ~~work~~ and or business, some to visit their family and friends, and some just to go sightseeing in new places. What all of ~~these~~ people have in common is ~~the fact~~, that almost all of them choose to travel by plane. In this essay, I will present some of the advantages and disadvantages of ~~such a choice~~ air travel.

Comment [#1]: "Some of them" is grammatically correct, but as you mentioned "people" earlier, it is better to repeat "people".

Comment [#2]: "or" is more natural.

Comment [#3]: "these" is more natural.

Comment [#4]: This is not necessary.

First of all, the most important advantage that planes have over other means of transport is the time that ~~one~~ can be saved. For example, it takes roughly two hours to ~~get fly~~ from Warsaw to London by plane, and almost twenty-four hours by bus.

Comment [#5]: Using "one" in this manner is OK, but then you should make sure that you use this throughout the essay.

Secondly, ~~the~~ statistics say, that planes are by far the safest choice. Approximately, there is a ~~one serious~~ plane crash every two years which ~~is a causes of~~ around 300 deaths. ~~it~~ This is still less, than the number of people that die every day in car accidents.

Comment [#6]: "get" is overused in English. Try to use the proper verb when you can.

Unfortunately, planes have their cons, namely ~~the~~ fuel consumption. Airplane fuel not only is expensive but also its production and usage releases a huge amount of greenhouse gasses into the atmosphere. The only kind of fuel that is less environmentally friendly is rocket fuel.

Also, ~~Being~~ Being a flight attendant is ~~a~~ hard work. ~~You~~ They have to work ~~in~~ long shifts, away from their family ~~and~~ , also the number of hours spent in the air increases their chances of being in a plane crash. If ~~we reduced~~ the number of flights were reduced ~~then the~~ we would also reduce the number of people that have to do this hard job would be less.

All in all, it seems, that air travel ~~have~~ s some cons. Working in this industry is unpleasant and ~~it~~ air travel produces a lot of pollutions. However, travelling by plane is so convenient, that I do not see society putting any pressure on airlines and passengers to reduce the number of flights.

Student essay before correction

Is air transport good for the world? Should people be encouraged to travel less often by plane? What are the advantages and disadvantages of air travel?

Travelling is an important aspect of life for many people. Some of them travel for work and business, some to visit their family and some just to go sightseeing in new places. What all of those people have in common is the fact, that almost all of them choose to travel by plane. In this essay I will present advantages and disadvantages of such a choice.

First of all, the most important advantage that planes have over other means of transport is the time that one can save. For example it takes roughly two hours to get from Warsaw to London by plane, and almost twenty four hours by bus.

Secondly the statistics say, that planes are by far the safest choice. Approximately there is a one planecrash every two years which is a cause of around 300 deaths, it is still less, than the number of people that die every day in car accidents.

Unfortunately planes have their cons, namely the fuel. Airplane fuel not only is expensive but also its production and usage releases a huge amount of greenhouse gasses to the atmosphere. The only kind of fuel that is less environmentally friendly is rocket fuel.

Being a flight attendant is a hard work. You have to work in long shifts, away from family, also the number of hours spent in air increases the chances of being in a plane crash. If we reduced the number of flights we would also reduce the number of people that have to this hard job.

All in all it seems, that air travel have some cons. Working in this industry is unpleasant and it produces a lot of pollutions. However travelling by plane is so convenient, that I do not see society putting any pressure to reduce the number of flights.

Student essay after correction without comments

Travelling is an important aspect of life for many people. Some people travel for work or business, some to visit their family and friends, and some just to go sightseeing in new places. What all of these people have in common is that almost all of them choose to travel by plane. In this essay, I will present some of the advantages and disadvantages of air travel.

First of all, the most important advantage that planes have over other means of transport is the time that can be saved. For example, it takes roughly two hours to fly from Warsaw to London by plane and almost twenty-four hours by bus.

Secondly, statistics say that planes are by far the safest choice. Approximately, there is a serious plane crash every two years which causes around 300 deaths. This is still less than the number of people that die every day in car accidents.

Unfortunately, planes have their cons, namely fuel consumption. Airplane fuel not only is expensive but also its production and usage releases a huge amount of greenhouse gasses into the atmosphere. The only kind of fuel that is less environmentally friendly is rocket fuel.

Also, being a flight attendant is hard work. They have to work long shifts, away from their family and the number of hours spent in the air increases their chances of being in a plane crash. If the number of flights were reduced then the number of people that have to do this hard job would be less.

All in all, it seems that air travel has some cons. Working in this industry is unpleasant and air travel produces a lot of pollution. However, travelling by plane is so convenient that I do not see society putting any pressure on airlines and passengers to reduce the number of flights.